Forecast for Saturday 06 Jul 2024

Weather: Blustery showers affecting areas of the park throughout the day. These most frequent during the morning, merging to form longer spells of rain at times, plus could be heavy and possibly thundery. Showers becoming more scattered into the afternoon with sunny spells developing in between.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 600m: Near nil increasing 90%

Low cloud and visibility: Cloud initially down to 500 metres but rising to near the highest ground by late morning. Chance of some bases temporarily shrouding peaks as heavy showers move across the park in the morning. Good visibility for scenic viewpoints in dry periods, but dropping to poor in heavy showers.
